

Stroke of Jasmine

Personal Information

My name is Jasmine, but I also go by the name Stroke Of Jasmine on the web. I was born in Salisbury, North Carolina USA and I'm an artist of many talents. I taught myself how to draw at a young age, and by learning from my mother. I have been drawing for many years traditionally and digitally. My interests are video games, animals, comics, animation, jewelry making and many more.

Artist Statement

I create art because I have a strong need to develop and shape the ideas into reality. My inspiration comes from everything around me, and the weird subjects that pop into my head. My art consists of bright colors and interesting subjects not of this world. I work in many different mediums including traditional to digital software like Photoshop. The only expectation I have of my art is to tell stories and to share my ideas.
